

CALAISIO™

CALAISIO, INC.

Our dream is to bring the world products of timeless design, quality and durability.

We seek to do this while taking care of the environment and giving back to the communities of the artisans who create them.

These artisans, who reside and work in remote villages in the South Pacific, hand-make each of the products in this collection. The vines they use to construct them — called “vignes d’eau” or water-vines — only grow in remote mountain jungles and are very difficult to reach and challenging to harvest. However, once reaped, the vines grow back quickly, leaving no damage in their native forests. At a mere 3 millimeters in diameter — barely one-fourth as thick as typical rattan — the water-vine takes 1-7 days to hand-weave into a finished design but yields a substantially more durable, heat-resistant and elegant product.

Earnings from weaving help lift these artisans and their villages out of subsistence living, and provide them with better food, healthcare and transportation.

Calaisio, Inc. is committed to investing a substantial amount of its profits back into these villages to further improve education and infrastructure.

We hope you enjoy the collection.

The Calaisio products in the catalogue are registered and patented under the Intellectual Property of the Philippines Bureau of Patents.

It is forbidden to copy or reproduce the patented and registered design or in any other form, for distribution, or sale, without the written permission of the patent holder

THE TABLE COLLECTION

A rustic dining table setting. In the center, a green ceramic bowl filled with a light-colored soup sits on a round, woven brown placemat. A silver spoon is tucked into the soup. To the right of the bowl, a silver knife and fork are laid out. Above the bowl, a blue and green patterned napkin is folded and held by a woven brown ring. In the upper right, a tall glass of white wine stands. In the upper left, a woven basket contains bread. The entire scene is set on a dark, textured wooden table.

THE BREAD BASKETS COLLECTION

A photograph showcasing three woven bread baskets from 'The Bread Baskets Collection'. The baskets are made of a light brown, textured material, possibly rattan or wicker, and feature two handles on opposite sides. They are arranged on a dark, polished wooden table. The basket in the foreground is filled with a single large, golden-brown braided bread. The basket in the background left is filled with several smaller, round, golden-brown breads. The basket in the background right is filled with several round, golden-brown breads. To the right of the baskets, three bright red tomatoes are visible. In the background, a window with a view of green foliage is visible, and a white cloth is partially visible on the right side of the table.
