WHAT IS PALLADIUM Palladium is a platinum group metal, and though it is often confused for its more expensive counterpart, palladium is a separate elemental metal. Because of its likeness to platinum, palladium is also used as a metal alloyed in the jewelry industry.

All jewelry is made in England – just outside of London in a town called Stoke on Kent.

Watches – same as above - Movement is made in Japan – links easily removable to adjust size.

Scarves & shawls- 100% Italian silk – hand finished – hand hemmed in Italy. Very comparable to Hermes quality.

What does Halcyon Days mean? Noun - a period of peace and happiness; an idyllic time; also, a period of calm weather during the winter solstice in December. From greek mythology.
